

Keep it short and simpleAnswer Key

1. In these elderly patients with hypertension, blood pressure decreased by 18/11 mmHg for a mean follow up of 4.4 years.
2. It is not known if 18-gauge catheters are better. / This is the first time 18-gauge catheters have been shown as better.
3. Until recently, clinical trials were difficult to design because there was no method for assessing the symptoms of genitourinary prolapse.
4. These trials have led to the evidence-based introduction of several new drugs, some of which improve survival.
5. We aimed to establish whether the palm or the whole hand was the best estimate of 1% of total body area.
6. These techniques aim to slow down and counteract the degenerative processes.
7. Besides preventing cancer, p53 also plays a role in aging, differentiation, and fertility.
8. Headache is a very common pain symptom. / Headache is very common. / Almost everyone has a headache now and then.
9. Clinical seizures occur in 0.5% to 2.3% of newborns.
10. Figure 2 shows that a return kinetic energy less than 3.2Up yields two electron trajectories.